

The Future of Social Work: Connecting to Our Roots and Our Community to Create Change

Keynote Speakers:

Laura van Dernoot Lipsky, MSW & Danette Burchill, LCSW

Laura van Dernoot Lipsky, MSW, is the author of "Trauma Stewardship." She has worked directly with trauma survivors for over two decades. Like so many of her colleagues, Laura initially engaged in her work with great passion and commitment, and with a sense that it was a privilege to serve others. But over time, the work she cared so much about took a toll on her ability to be present in her life, enjoy her relationships, and even be an effective social worker and educator. Laura's hunger to embrace both the job and the sorrow of our life experiences is at the root of her concept of trauma stewardship. Laura lives in Seattle, Washington, with her family; holds a master of social work degree; is bilingual in Spanish; and in 2008 was given a Yo! Mama award in recognition of her work as a community-activist mother.

Danette Burchill, LCSW, is the Clinical Director of the Avel Gordly Center for Healing at OHSU. Ms. Burchill has a BA in Psychology, a BA in Social Thought and Analysis, and her Master's of Social Work from Washington University in St. Louis. Ms. Burchill specializes in working with depression, anxiety, trauma, psychotic disorders, life change transitions and spirituality. Her primary method of treatment is cognitive behavioral therapy with dialectical behavior therapy skills taught as well. She has experience in working with multicultural populations and issues of identity. Ms. Burchill believes that all people have the ability to change and deserve to feel well. She believes that by developing healthy decision-making skills and positive self-image through examining patterns, beliefs and behaviors, clients are empowered to make healthy choices for themselves that enhance their lives.

Our second annual Future of Social Work event should not be missed! The day's events will include two keynote presentations, two breakout sessions and a reception. It is a great opportunity for upcoming, new and veteran social workers to connect with each other, learn important tools and feel energized about the important work that we do.
