

The Trauma Toolbox: Holistic Interventions in Psychotherapy

Friday, May 7, 2010

9:00 AM-4:30 PM

NASW Oregon Chapter is pleased to sponsor "The Trauma Toolbox: Holistic Interventions in Psychotherapy," scheduled for Friday, May 7, 2010.

The workshop will be held at Good Samaritan Hospital, building 2, 1040 NW 22nd Avenue, Portland

Presenter Susan Pease Banitt, LCSW is a Harvard trained psychotherapist with thirty-five years experience in mental health work as well as extensive yogic and shamanic training. She is an expert in traumatic states and alternative healing modalities by virtue of practice, research and her own journey of healing. Currently in private practice in Northwest Portland, she is writing her first book The Trauma Toolbox: Healing From the Soul Out.
Workshop description: Trauma hurts the victim psychologically, spiritually and physically. Clinicians can easily become overwhelmed or burnt-out in the process of caring for clients with overwhelming stress or trauma. In this all-day workshop we will look at the different layers of the human being that are injured in the experience of traumatic stress and effective alternative interventions that profoundly aid healing. These interventions draw on the wisdom of cultures from around the world and sometimes clash with mainstream American views on medicine and the body. Areas of cultural competence will be addressed to reconcile these seemingly opposing views.

This conference is approved for 6 hours.

Please fill out the registration form below and send with a check to the chapter office or you can pay with a credit card through CVent (see Online registration)
